The Boy And The Owl: A Story About The Attributes Of God Based On The Poem "The Creed Of Salvation" (Ghazali Children)

Synopsis

A picture book that helps children better understand the Islamic belief of the attributes of God. In this children's tale, a wise owl explains some of the deeper aspects of the Islamic belief. This story focuses on the part of a poem written by the famous Shaykh Muhammad b. Ja far al-Kattani that deals with how we can know anything about God. It describes 13 essential attributes, in a way a child can understand: God has speech, power, hearing, sight, will, and knowledge and is attributed with life.

Customer Reviews

Such a lovely and meaningful book. I love the illustration the most. It is beautifully done. The elements and principals of art have been used in a organized way. It portrays the true meaning of the book. I would def. give it a 5 star.

A Must Have! Although this is a children book, I highly recommend it for ALL ages. It left me in such awe, the way it gracefully teaches you the attributes of Allah (SWT). The message is simple yet done in the most beautiful and creative ways. The illustration makes a big impact and goes hand in hand with this meaningful book! I loved pursuing the pages with my children and finding the hidden shahada. Thank you for doing this and looking forward to many more books from you both, in sha'Allah!

This is the perfect children's book. The interactive illustrations are so intricately done, definitely made the book just as more beautiful.

This book is absolutely beautiful! It is beautifully written and illustrated. My children and I are enjoying this book very much.
